

ELECTIONS HELD IN DOZEN STATES ON NEXT TUESDAY

In Five of Which Governors Will be Chosen, While Some Will Elect Senators and Cleveland and San Francisco Offer Hot Municipal Contests

A LINE ON WHAT IS COMING

New York, Oct. 29.—There will be elections in twelve states on week from tomorrow. In Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland, Mississippi and Kentucky a governor and other state officers are to be chosen. In New Jersey, a governor only. In New York, two assembly members of the court of appeals, in Pennsylvania, a state treasurer, and in Nebraska, a railroad commissioner and two regents of the state university. In Ohio, Utah and California, municipal officers are to be elected, while in New York county a number of judges and a sheriff are to be voted for.

The Prohibitionists have a state ticket in all the states except Maryland and Mississippi and city tickets in Cleveland and Cincinnati, but not in San Francisco or Salt Lake.

The Socialists also have tickets in all the states except Mississippi and Maryland, and city tickets in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Salt Lake, but not in San Francisco.

The Social-Labor party has tickets in Kentucky and Mississippi and New Jersey, while the Union Labor made nominations for city officers in San Francisco.

There is only one ticket—the Democratic—in Mississippi and the result of course, is not doubtful.

In Massachusetts there are ten tickets, five being divided among the Democrats, who are engaged in a factional fight with the state delegation to the national Democratic convention. The national Democratic convention, held in Baltimore, decided that Henry M. Whittier was the nominee for governor.

In Nebraska, the Democrats and Republicans fused on the officials to be voted for throughout the state.

In Maryland there will be a straight contest between the Democrats and the Republicans, and the two parties having made nominations for state officers. In addition to these a house of delegates and one-half of the state senate are to be elected. The next legislature will choose two United States senators, one to fill the unexpired term of the late Arthur T. Borman, and the other to take the place of Senator Hays. The Republicans adhere to the old plan of senatorial election, but the Democrats are to put into effect a new senatorial primary plan, which requires every member of the legislature to vote for the candidate receiving the highest vote in his district. The senatorial primaries, so far at least as the Democrats are concerned, will hereafter be a part of the regular election in Maryland. Six aspirants for the long term will be voted for November 5, the candidate for the short term having no opposition.

The local elections, particularly in New York county, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Salt Lake and San Francisco are of particular interest this year.

In New York county the Republicans and the Independence League (Theater) forces have fused on the county ticket, which is made up of a number of court justices and a sheriff. This gives unusual interest to the contest although the Republicans named the head of the ticket, M. Linn Bruce, for justice of the supreme court, the most important office, that of sheriff went to Independence League, whose nominee, Maximilian F. Hennen, has been a member of Hearst's campaign committee, to several candidates. Of the ten judges nominated the Republicans named five and the Independence League the others. Opposed to Hennen on the Democratic ticket is Thomas F. Foley, Democratic leader of the Second Assembly district and a well known figure in east side politics, while James W. Gerard heads the Democratic ticket for justice of the supreme court. Soon after the nominations were made, Mayor McClellan, who had been opposed to the present Tammany machine, announced that he would support the Democratic ticket against the Republican-Hearst combine.

In Cleveland, Congressman Theodore E. Burton is contesting the mayoralty with Thomas L. Johnson, who is understood to be the representative of William J. Bryan in Ohio and to endorse Bryan's views on the subjects of public utilities.

There are four tickets in Salt Lake City, the American or anti-Mormon party having made nominations for local offices as have the Republicans,

GOV. BRADLEY SUMMARIZES CHARGES AGAINST BECKHAM ADMINISTRATION OF STATE

Refutes the Many Allegations and Disposes of Claims of Economy and Good Management

Louisville, Oct. 29.—Governor Bradley has repeatedly made certain specific charges against the administration of Governor Beckham. These charges have been entered from the platform and printed in the newspapers, but they still remain unanswered.

On several occasions Governor Bradley has gone exhaustively into the criticism of Beckham's regime. He has now furnished a summary, which in brief and comprehensive form shows the graft and extravagance of Democratic misrule, and exposes the misrepresentations that have been made during the campaign by Democratic speakers. The summary follows:

Messrs. Beckham and Hager have been denouncing the statements of Governor Bradley concerning Democratic mismanagement in Kentucky as untrue.

On the night of October 19 Governor Bradley, at Louisville, made specific response, and in that response he proved by reference to books he gave the falsehoods of his adversaries as follows:

First—Beckham's claim that the general assembly under Bradley was Republican is shown to have been untrue, as the house in 1896 and 1897 was Republican and the senate Democratic.

The statement by Mr. Beckham that the house of reform was not established at that session is untrue. It was then established. (See Act 1896, page 55.) The messages of Governor Bradley of 1896 and 1897, both call attention to the necessity of the house of reform.

Second—Governor Bradley charges that in 1892 the general assembly refused to make an appropriation for the St. Louis exposition, which Governor Beckham has not since denied, and that but for the action of citizens of the state no exposition could have been had. He charges the same as to the Jamestown exposition.

Third—As to common schools, Governor Bradley charges that the Beckhamites have collected for the following years on the increased value of property more than the value during his administration, to wit: In 1901, $61,985,324; in 1905, $83,798,278; in 1906, $129,503,474; in 1907, $207,016,636. He also charges that the present administration, although the value of taxable property was increased so materially after his administration went out of power, was never able to reach the per capita of $2.70 which was paid by the Republicans until after they increased the rate of taxation for school purposes from 22 cents during his administration to 26 1/2 cents on the one hundred dollars, March 4, 1907.

Inventory Of Gridiron Wounds Moves Lima College Football Team To Disband For Season

Lima, O., Oct. 29.—After taking an inventory of the injuries sustained by the Lima College football team, the captain today announced that the eleven was disbanded. As joined down on the official records, the inventory looked like this:

Six broken noses, four broken legs, eight dislocated bones, twelve broken fingers.

It was a sad meeting of the football association. The members of the team, as they huddled in on crutches or entered with their arms and heads bandaged, presented a rueful appearance.

When the captain looked down the line of his wounded heroes, tears came into his eyes. He called the roll and as each name was pronounced the cheer answered: "Here, a broken leg; or, 'Here, three broken fingers; and the secretary wrote down the list and blotted it with his tears. The list revealed that the team had broken all records for Democrats and Socialists.

In San Francisco the Democrats and the Good Government forces have combined and nominated the present acting-mayor who is opposed to a Republican as well as a Union Labor candidate and the three-cornered fight is decidedly lively.

WHITECAPS DRIVE JO MAYHEW OUT OF LYON COUNTY BECAUSE THE FIRM IS SAID TO BE UNFAIR

They Visit His House at Night and Abuse Him and Later Tell Him To Leave or Suffer the Consequences—County Judge Informs Mayhew His Life is in Danger

Because he was engaged in getting out ax handle timbers for a firm that was under the ban of the Farmers' union, Mr. Joe S. Mayhew, a former resident of the city, who arrived in the city yesterday, says he was forced to leave his work near Lamasco, Lyon county, by a band of whitecaps, who threatened to do violence to Mr. Mayhew and his family, if he did not leave that community at once.

Mr. Mayhew had been working as a carpenter around Lamasco for some time.

Mr. Mayhew says he then got employment getting out timbers for a Clarksville firm and it soon developed that they were under the ban of the union.

Friday night of last week a band of whitecaps went to his house and after getting him out by a ruse, made him dance and do all sorts of antics to please the crowd. After he was almost dead from exhaustion they went away and on Sunday night returned and left a bundle of switches and a note, telling Mr. Mayhew that he would be severely dealt with unless he left the country. Mr. Mayhew says he went to the county judge of Lyon county and asked for protection, but that official advised him to leave the county telling him that he would certainly be killed if he did not. The judge advised Mr. Mayhew to stay in the penitentiary that night to keep out of the way of the mob. A squad of deputies took in Mr. Mayhew's family and household goods, and they were shipped to Paducah, where all arrived safely yesterday. Mr. Mayhew says he is mighty glad to get back.

Immediately after his arrival here, he secured employment as a carpenter and said that hereafter Paducah is the place for him.

Editor Harden Justified in his Exposure of Von Molke and His Friends and Their Immoralities and Political Intrigue

KAISER FORCED HIM TO SUE

Berlin, Oct. 29.—Editor Maximilian Harden, of Sukunft, was acquitted of the charge of libeling Gen. Count Von Molke. The court must pay the costs. Von Molke sobbed aloud, during the reading of the judgment. Outside on his way home he was pelted with dirt from the street. Friends had to protect him with swords from a hooting crowd crying: "Down with the moral leper."

Harden was received with cheers. The court said Harden was justified in attacks which exposed Von Molke to the people, in the charges of immoralities and political intrigues aimed against the knights of the round table.

It is said the Kaiser forced Von Molke to sue Harden to test the truth of the charges.

YOUNG MAN HAS NEW THEORY

Human Life Seems Centered in Stomach.
All Else is Secondary.

The immense success which has followed L. T. Cooper during the past year with his new preparation has exceeded anything of the kind ever before witnessed in most of the leading cities where the young man has introduced the medicine. Cooper has a novel theory. He believes that the human stomach is directly responsible for most diseases. To quote his own words from an interview upon his arrival in an eastern city: "The average man or woman cannot be sick if the stomach is working properly. To be sure, there are diseases of a virulent nature, such as cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes, etc., which are organic, and are not traceable to the stomach, but even fevers can, in nine cases out of ten, be traced to some thing taken into the stomach. All of this half sick, nervous exhaustion that is now so common, is caused by the stomachic conditions, and it is because my remedy will and does regulate the stomach that I am meeting with such success."

"To sum the matter up—a sound digestive apparatus that is doing its full duty getting every particle of vitality out of all food by transferring it to the bowels in a perfectly digested state—this above all else brings health."

Mr. A. C. Brock, chef of the Brock Restaurant, Market District, Boston, Mass., who is a staunch believer in Mr. Cooper's theory and medicine, has this to say: "I had chronic indigestion for over three years. I suffered terribly, and lost about thirty pounds. I was a physical wreck when I started this Cooper medicine, a month or so ago. Today I am as well as I ever was in my life. I am no longer nervous, my food does not distress me in the least, and I have a splendid appetite. I am gaining flesh very rapidly—in fact, at the rate of a pound a day. I would not believe any medicine on earth could have done for me what this has done. It is a remarkable preparation and Mr. Cooper deserves all his success."

We recommend the Cooper preparations as being remarkable medicines. W. B. McPherson.

Five Hundred Trained Teachers Will Hold Meetings in Streets of Kentucky City.

Bible class meetings by 500 trained Bible class teachers will be held upon the streets of Louisville next June during the convention of the International Sunday School association. This was announced at the banquet and informal meeting of the local executive committee held at the Seelbach hotel.

At this meeting it was announced that W. C. Pearce, secretary of the adult department, purposes to bring the half thousand trained teachers to the city, they will be banqueted.

During the convention some time between the afternoon and the evening sessions.

Mr. Pearce, together with General Secretary Marion Lawrence, it was also announced, would be here for a week during February, at which time they would perfect plans for the international convention. An institute will be held at that time.

Letters were received from members of the executive committee which was here a short time ago, thanking the local committee for the courtesies extended to them.

The local committee is now at work endeavoring to ascertain how many will be present at the big meeting, and to secure lodging for them. It is thought that no less than 2,500 delegates, and possibly many more, will be here. J. J. Telford, of the transportation committee, is busy arranging railroad rates. All told more than 5,000 visitors are expected in Louisville during the monster convention.—Louisville Evening Post

THEATRICAL NOTES

AT THE KENTUCKY.
Friday Night—"A Cowboy's Girl."
Saturday (matinee and night)—
Wilton Lackaye in "The Bondman."

A Cattle Stampede.

The wonderful cattle scene in the third act of "A Cowboy's Girl" has made the critics set up in their seats and gaze with wonder. That it is possible to produce the effect both to the eye and ear of thousands of wild steers dashing across the stage in a frantic stampede is inimitable. Percy R. Benton spent hundreds of dollars experimenting before he finally succeeded. "A Cowboy's Girl," with all its wealth of scenery and effects, comes to The Kentucky November 1.

"The Bondman."

Concerning "The Bondman," in which Wilton Lackaye will appear at The Kentucky Saturday night and matinee, the Fort Worth (Texas) Record says:

"No matter what the vehicle which Wilton Lackaye might choose to offer, the offering would be a dramatic event quite worth while, and that is full time of 'The Bondman.' In which he appeared at Greenwall's last night. 'The Bondman' it can only be said that it is a big melodrama, a great melodrama even, but still a melodrama and saved in its strained, unnatural and entirely theatrical situations from the condemnation which falls upon melodrama as a class only by the name of Wilton Lackaye in the title role. For two years 'The Bondman' continued to pack houses in England and for a year sold it held audiences at the historic old Drury Lane theater of London. That is in itself conclusive proof that it is a wonderfully wrought melodrama, for because the best and the biggest of the kind have had Drury Lane for the scene of their premiere, Drury Lane audiences know a melodrama of worth when they see it."

The dramatization of the novel of the same name is pretty closely made after the original story. The two principal male characters around which "The Bondman" is written are, half brothers, their father, a Sicilian, having first betrayed and deserted the daughter of the governor of one of the dependencies of Sicily (who has cast her out of doors at the birth of her illegitimate child) and then settled in the Isle of Man, where he married another woman, who bore him another son. The Sicilian son, Jason, has reached manhood, when his mother dies, and, at the point of death, she prompts him to avenge her wrongs on his father and his father's son in the foreign country. About the same time the father dies and in the hour of death he urges his English son, Michael, to find and succor the woman the father has injured and the child he has left fatherless.

"This has all occurred before the opening of the first scene of the play, and when the action of the dramatization starts, Michael is just setting out to keep the promise he made his father, and behind him leaves his promised bride, Gretha, to whom he is to return within two years.

"He has no more than gone when Jason, Sicilian half-brother of Michael, now a desperado from the ship by which Michael has sailed, appears, Jason, little more than a Sicilian bandit, searching for food and shelter, finds his way into the house where Gretha is alone. Gretha, terrified at first, asks him after the flight has passed, to sit at the table and eat. She is not afraid of him in spite of his every evidence of being a desperate character. Soon the blue coats are after him and she hides him, and when danger is over tells him to go. He has told her that he came hunting the son of his father, to have vengeance, and she sends him away, telling him that Michael is far beyond his reach. He goes but returns to ask work of her father, who takes him, and Jason, grown to be a splendid, manly character, through the love he bears Gretha, stays on until more than three years have elapsed.

"No word has come from Michael. Village gossip taunts Gretha—she has married or he is dead—and importuned by her family, she consents to marry Jason. Within the hour the letter comes from Michael. He had been a political prisoner, but now is governor of Sicily, and Gretha, breaking with Jason, goes to wed him. The old hate doubled and tripled. Jason follows later, sworn to have Michael's life.

"Jason secures a position as porter in the governor's household and plans to kill Michael. He meets Gretha who turns him over to the police, only to see her own husband again taken prisoner as a traitor. Both brothers, unknown to each other, are sentenced to work in the mines of a convict island. The story of how Jason eventually twice saves the life of Michael, whom he had sworn to kill, is told in Hall Caine's simple, strong, human way.

"Mr. Lackaye finished, artistic man that he is, has opportunally for using all of the intensity, finesse and virility which are always characteristic of his work. Jason is a wonderful character study. A rude, primitive nature, an outcast by fate and not choice, he responds to the first gentle touch his starved soul has known and in the unfolding of that soul Gretha becomes the one thing in the world. The light gone, the soul cankers in its hate and thirst for vengeance, but only for a little while. The grain of mustard seed, if temporarily checked in its growing, expands, and at last Jason dies for Michael, his brother. There is love, hate, vengeance, pity, remorse, and anguish in the character of Jason, and Wilton Lackaye makes each emotion powerfully convincing. But he does not hold the stage all the time. Sidney Ayres as Michael has a strong character, which he portrays artistically, vividly. And Elsie Ferguson as Gretha, with her spirituelle face and appealing voice, is a charming young woman in whose work are no false notes. The entire company is exceptionally strong."

Mrs. Leslie Carter Coming.

Mrs. Leslie Carter, who is usually referred to as the Bernhardt of America, will present David Belasco's play, "Du Barry," in this city on January 31. Mrs. Carter's rendition of this role has proved the greatest triumph of the time, and the extent of this triumph can only be measured with her own supremely great successes in "Zaza" and "Adrea." Those who have no notion to what heights Mrs. Carter has reached as an exponent of emotional acting, for this role calls upon the actress to exert her artistic skill to the top of her bent. This role is well worthy the skill of an actress of the first rank and only an actress of her supreme attainments would attempt such a characterization with the slightest hope of success. Even in London, where Mrs. Carter appeared in "The Heart of Maryland" and "Zaza," she was acknowledged as being the greatest exponent of dramatic art of the English stage.

Plenty of Music.

A gentleman of the most cultivated musical tastes, wishing to change his residence, advertised for rooms in a private family "fond of music." The next mail brought him the following reply:

Dear Sir: I think that we could accommodate you with rooms, and as for music one of my daughters plays the parlor organ and guitar; another one plays the accordion and banjo; I play the cornet and fiddle; my wife plays the harmonium and my son the flute. We all sing and if you are good at neither singing you would fit right in when we get to singing gospel hymns evenings, for none of us sings tenor. Or if you play the base violin we have one right here in the house. If you want music as well as rooms and board we could accommodate you and there would be no extra charge for it.—October Lippincott's.

RIVER MEETING

TENNESSEE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION.

Many People of Valley Will Go to Knoxville Next Month to Work for Development.

The eleven annual meeting of the Tennessee River Improvement Association is called to meet in Knoxville at 10 a. m. November 13 and a number of local rivermen intend to attend. In making out the call for the session the executive committee says:

"It has been the good fortune of the association by its persistent and constant work in the last eleven years to accomplish great good to all of the sections bordering on and close to the Tennessee river and its valleys, by the assistance of the government, to the work of improvement of the river, and that there is no question before the people of the valley more important than the improvement of the great waterway."

Many guests, senators and members of congress have signified their intention to attend the meeting, and all cities and counties are entitled to appoint delegates to the session.

Warner Again a Candidate.
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 28.—Gov. Fred M. Warner today announced that he will be a candidate for a third term as governor of Michigan. The governor announced that nothing had entered into his decision more than the opposition shown by legislators to much of the legislation he advocated.

For the Woman That's Fat.
A Detroit physician says that the cheapest and safest mixture a fat woman who wants to get thin can use is one-half ounce Marmola (get it in the original half-ounce package), one-half ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic and three and one-half ounces Syrup Simplex. The proper amount to take is a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime.

These ingredients may be obtained from any druggist at small cost and make a combination that is not only excellent as a fat reducer, being able, it is claimed, to take off a pound a day without causing crinkles, but is also a splendid help to the system as a whole, regulating the stomach and bowels (where the fat person's troubles begin) and clearing the skin of pimples and blotches. No exercise is required to help the remedy in its work and, best of all, no dieting is necessary while taking it—you can eat what you like.

Co-operation of teachers are appreciated and invited. Present outlook leads us to believe that will not be far in the future before we realize the need of a branch library in certain districts of the city.

PEANUT EATER HAS A RIVAL: TOWNSMAN TOUTS HIS REAS.

Aurora, Ill., Oct. 28.—To prove that Dr. T. J. Allen's pet food, the peanut, is not the most valuable nutriment, Edgar Brobst, aged 60, has begun a sixty day endurance test of beans. He says he intends to live until he is 100 years old and that he is convinced one continuous round of beans will insure his ambition.

In secret Mr. Brobst began his bean diet ten days ago, at the time Dr. Allen took to peanuts. He reports he has gained two pounds in weight, while the friend of the peanut is minus nine and one-half pounds.

While gaining in weight Brobst has gained the ill will of his wife and three children, who have fled to another neighborhood, determined not to return until Brobst gives up his bean habit.

Dr. Allen, the disciple of the peanut, believes Mr. Brobst will not thrive on beans. He sticks to the peanuts and was in normal condition today.

Mark Twain's Story of His Life.

Mark Twain refuses to let his captivating autobiography be published in book form until after his death, but journalistic enterprise has come to the rescue, and we are to have Mark's masterpiece after all. He has consented to let it appear as a serial. It has been secured at enormous cost by the Sunday magazine of the Chicago Record-Herald, which has a name for capturing big prizes of this sort, such as Conan Doyle's "Sir Nigel" and Kipling's "Sons of Martha."

Thus it falls out that the readers of the Sunday Record-Herald are to have a delightful treat without extra cost. For months to come Mark Twain will go on telling in his droll way about the famous people he has met, how he came to create Colonel Sellers and Tom Sawyer, and all the funny things that have happened to him. The whole is to be profusely illustrated. The first installment—in the issue of October 27—was accompanied by a magnificent portrait of the humorist. Everybody who likes Mark Twain will want to read this great biography.

ANNUAL MEETING PACKET COMPANY

Chattanooga River People
Find Conditions Good

At Least Two Boats Will Fly Between Paducah and That City in Season.

OTHERS MAY BE IN SERVICE.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Oct. 29.—The annual meeting of the Chattanooga Packet company held yesterday in the rooms of the Manufacturers' association, developed a number of interesting reports which have an important bearing on the manufacturing and commercial life of Chattanooga. Comparative freight rates between the rail and water lines were issued after the meeting and many other interesting matters were touched upon. A new board of directors was elected which in turn unanimously re-elected the officers of the company which have served since the organization, namely, John A. Patton, president; J. N. Trigg, vice president and C. W. Olson, secretary. The new board of directors are: John A. Patton, J. N. Trigg, C. D. Mitchell, B. E. Pritts, John Stungmaier, C. W. Howard and C. W. Olson.

There will be a meeting of the directors of the packet company in a few days at which time a schedule for the fall operation of the boats will be announced. At that time the company will probably announce whether or not additional boats will be put into service this fall between Chattanooga and points down the river. It has already been tentatively agreed that two boats shall ply the Tennessee from Chattanooga to Paducah, Ky., and should the business be heavier than now anticipated other boats may be put on. The past season has been a prosperous one for the planters and farmers along the river, and the navigation officials expect a large business. There are a number of details to be worked out before the full schedule of the boats can be announced.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the meeting was a part of President Patton's report in reference to the comparative freight rates on water and rail lines. This report showed the following significant figures:

After reporting at length on the operations of the company, Mr. Patton made the following observations on the local river situation:

There is much in the general outlook for river improvement that is encouraging and gratifying. The country is awakening to the real transportation situation, and ex-

dence is multiplying to prove that the federal authorities are seeing the necessity of adopting a vigorous policy with regard to river improvement work. President Roosevelt gave the movement a powerful "boost" when he named the inland waterways commission and made his recent trip down the Mississippi, and congress is expected to frame another large appropriation bill at the coming session.

Popular indifference to internal waterway development is almost inconceivable. From the adoption of the constitution to last December the government has appropriated only $160,000,000 for river and harbor improvement—an amount exceeded by the naval appropriations for the preceding five years by $22,000,000, the total being $182,000,000. The navy received in five years a greater sum than river and harbors were allotted in one hundred and eighteen years. This liberal and inexcusable policy makes a comparison with the method of other countries serviceable.

With large general appropriations assured and the great obstructions in our river all provided for—Missel Shoals, Colbert Shoals and the mountain section completed or the money provided for their completion—the most vexatious indifference on the part of the people of the Tennessee valley can prevent our great river from taking its proper place in the commercial life at a very early date.

After laboring so long for this end, let us not weary when almost in sight of the consummation of our hopes.

ATTEMPT TO PURCHASE REGISTRATION CERTIFICATES

A Penitentiary Offense—Both Purchaser and Seller Guilty.

Subsection 15, of section 1583 of the Kentucky statutes provides, that "Any person or persons, who shall attempt to prevent, or prevent, any voter from casting his ballot, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction, be confined in the penitentiary for a period of years, or not less than one nor more than five years for each offense."

Section 1591, of the Kentucky person guilty of receiving a bribe for his vote at an election, shall be fined from fifty to five hundred dollars and be excluded from office and suffrage. And subsection 3 of said section reads that "whoever shall receive money or other thing of value to be used for the purpose of procuring or influencing a vote or votes shall be deemed to have been bribed."

Every attempt to purchase a registration certificate is an attempt to prevent a voter from casting his ballot, and renders the offender liable to the penitentiary penalty. And every voter who receives money or other thing of value for his registration certificate, does so for the purpose of influencing his vote, is guilty of being bribed, and is liable to the penalty fixed by the law.

Section 1591, of the Kentucky statutes further provides: "That this chapter shall be liberally construed, so as to prevent any evasions of its prohibitions and penalties by shift or device." And further requires, that violations of these laws shall be "given specially in charge to the grand jury of every county first convened after any general election."

The executive committee of the Republican party in Paducah have information that attempts have been made to purchase registration certificates in this election, and are preparing the evidence necessary to convict the offenders on warrants to be taken out before the committing magistrates of the city.

Gompers May Be Ousted.

New York, Oct. 28.—A conference of executive officers of the American Federation of Labor was held yesterday at the Hotel Victoria to settle disputes between unions so as to have a clean slate when the convention of the American Federation of Labor opens on November 11. President Gompers presided. Among the executive officers present were James Duncan, of the Granite Cutters' Union, first vice president of the American Federation of Labor, and Wm. Huber, of the Brotherhood of Carpenters.

It is said a fight will be made in the convention to knock out the reelection of President Gompers and the present members of the executive council. There is a feeling that there should be new blood among the executive officers.

The Cheapest Stove to Use Because It Saves All Wasted With Other Stoves For Hard Coal, Soft Coal or Lignite

The waste of gas in burning hard coal is shown by opening the magazine cover of an ordinary base burner, when the oxygen supplied fills the entire stove with flaming gas. Cole's Hot Blast stove burns this gas in hard coal which, in ordinary stoves, escapes, on account of their leaky construction, causing great waste and endangering health and life when it escapes into the rooms.

In the ordinary magazine hard coal stove, three-fourths of the coal is partially consumed in the magazine, where it gives off no heat, as it is not in contact with the radiating surface. The one-fourth of the coal in the fire pot must be kept at a white heat combustion to throw the heat into the rooms, thus causing great waste.

Cole's Original Hot Blast

The combustion chamber and the magazine are combined in this stove and the Combustion is Perfect. The stove is filled to the top of the inside cast iron lining. This large body of hard coal is burned under perfect control by means of the absolutely air-tight construction of the stove giving perfect control over the drafts. The coal is kept at a slow, economical cherry red combustion and as the heat is in direct contact with every square inch of the sensitive steel radiating surface, all the heat is radiated into the room where it is wanted and not blanketed in and sent up the chimney. Hard coal at Cherry Red Combustion burns 48 hours, while at white heat it is consumed in from 2 to 5 hours.

Sold Under a Positive Guarantee

We Guarantee Cole's Original Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner with the same heating surface.

Requires attention only morning and night with hard coal. Warm rooms day and night. No escaping gases to endanger life. The heat wasted up the chimney with other stoves is saved.

Burns Any Fuel—Saves Half

Cole's Hot Blast is not only a perfect hard coal stove, but is generally recognized as the most economical and cleanest soft coal stove made. Soft coal is half gas and a $3.00 ton of soft coal or a $2.00 ton of slack is made to do the work of $9.00 worth of hard coal, as the gas half is utilized as a heat producer. It burns soft coal, hard coal or wood without any change of fixtures.

Scientific Construction

Cole's Original Hot Blast has an absolutely air-tight and gas tight construction throughout, by reason of its numerous patented improvements. The patented Hot Blast draft saves the gas. A patented steel collar connects the elbow draft to the stove body and cannot be made to leak air by action of the fiercest heat. The patented compound hinge on the ash door cannot warp and the door closes air-tight by its own weight. The heavy fire box protects the joints, where other stoves burn out first. The guaranteed smoke-proof feed door prevents smoke, soot or dust from escaping into the room when fuel is put into the stove. Perfect cleanliness, therefore, from soft coal.

CAUTION: Like all original improvements, Cole's Original Hot Blast has many imitations. They are failures, because they do not have the above patented features. The words "Cole's Hot Blast from Chicago" will be found on the feed door of every Cole's Hot Blast. None genuine without it.

TOM DIDN'T SAY SO.

Accused of blackmail! and by Tom Harrison, and in our own office! Oh, we are so glad it was the News-Democrat and not Tom, who said that! Saturday evening The Sun very pointedly remarked concerning the policy of the News-Democrat: "Now, just one word further. This kind of campaign has gone far enough. If it is not stopped, the light may be turned on Tom Harrison and his whole lot of intimates and political allies, and, as President Roosevelt puts it, the man, who turns on the light will not be responsible for what the light reveals. Let us be decent in this campaign. Remember, we all have to live together in Paducah after the election is over." That is all we desired or demanded; but that hint announcement, according to the News-Democrat, brought Mr. Harrison to our office, where he said in substance: "Such an open insult as had been offered his personal character in the article published Saturday, he felt was simply and purely blackmail. He called attention to the fact that whatever statements the News-Democrat had made relative to any candidate had been made openly, and in plain outspoken words, free of any insinuations or insults flattered with the veneer of plety. He further called upon The Sun to make public the facts relative to his public or private life, giving to it the liberty to speak openly, whatever it might feel inclined to say but such misleading insinuations he would not tolerate." Now, all this stuff is in the editorial columns of the News-Democrat, and that paper alone assumes responsibility for the statement of what is supposed to have taken place in the office of The Sun. Whether or not Mr. Harrison came to the office and had a conference with the general manager of The Sun, and what took place, if such a conference was held, is known to two people—Tom Harrison and the general manager of The Sun. Neither of them has spoken. If Mr. Harrison will, through our columns, or in a signed statement in the News-Democrat, say he inspired that editorial, that he gave the data on which to base the editorial, or say the statements in the editorial are true, we shall pursue this matter further. Otherwise, having accomplished what we set out to do, we shall not worry a patient public with quibbling and innuendo.

After the election a new city attorney may find the Hugh Boyle case on his hands. Still, if it doesn't bother him any more.

You may register today and tomorrow until 9 o'clock tomorrow night. If you can swear you were prevented by sickness or absence from registering on the regular registration day. You must appear before the county clerk to do that.

Perhaps Congressman Barleson thought, if the government was willing to risk $1,000,000 on the Jamestown exposition, there would be no greater risk of loss or depreciation, in lending money on cotton warehouse certificates. However, that zealous representative should recollect, that it was congress that authorized the exposition loan, not the treasury department.

Lift up your heads, O, Ye Gentes! Hallowe'en is approaching. Get ye to the harn tops.

Another campaign lie being given wide circulation is the charge, that Mr. Willson was attorney for the American Tobacco company, the inference being that he is a corporation lawyer, of the variety that advises big concerns how to violate the law without incurring its penalty. One time the Louisville branch of the concern had occasion to bring a damage suit against a railroad. The local attorney for the company happened also to be under retainer from the railroad. The suit was about the loss of some tobacco. Mr. Willson was employed to bring that suit and his services began with that suit and ended when the court of appeals decided that he had fairly won his case on its merits. The only reflection on Mr. Willson in the whole story is that he is a good lawyer, and had a just cause against a railroad corporation. Yet, blagger, et al., are misrepresenting the facts all over the state.

Mr. James P. Smith has built more good, substantial houses in Paducah than any other individual. His interest is absolutely wrapped up in the progress and development of Paducah. In the form of enterprise in which his earnings are invested, clearly by the employment afforded laboring men are benefited financially; the demand for their labor is made the greater, and the demand enables them to uphold the scale of wages. Such a man as that in the mayor's chair, will be bound by his own personal interest in the city to do everything for the benefit of the city, and to refrain from doing anything that would injure it.

ALL HALLOWE'EN.

Thursday is All Hallowe'en. Hallowe'en has been the great harvest festival ever since the first garden was plentiful. It was one of the three festivals celebrated by the druids, May 1, the planting; June 21, the ripening, and December 31, the harvesting. In the days of pagan Rome October 31 was the feast of Pomona, the "nn angel who guards the gardens" and it was but natural that God's harvesting should come to be observed at this time also, and this day devoted to the remembrance of the dear souls that God's hands had "gathered in." Also on this day the druids has renewed the sacred fires for the long winter to come. Then as fire is the preventive of two great evils, cold and hunger, it came in time to be thought of as preventing other evils also—the evils that lived in the air and sky—pixies and fairies, ghouls, ghosts and goblins, so that even as late as the 17th century farmers made the rounds of their farms swinging fiery torches and singing solemn doggerel to prevent the uncanny ones from casting a spell upon the crops. Therefore, when we of today bring about Jack-o'-lanterns, sit by the fire turning apples on a spit to weird rhymes, and roast nuts in pairs while listening to ghostly tales, we are uniting traditions of at least three religions and doing that in fun which was once a most solemn ceremony.

General Buell's Home Burns.
Evansville, Ind., Oct. 29.—Information received here today from Rockport, Ky., states that the historic home of the late General Don Carlos Buell, at Aldrie, on the Green river, was destroyed by fire last night. The home was occupied by General Buell during the civil war.

Two Boys Break Shoulders.

CHAPTER II.
A Cry for Help.

I hastily closed and locked the door. Then I rallied my spirits with something of resolution, and shamed myself with the reproach that I should fear to share any danger that Henry was ready to face. Wearied as I was with travel, I was too much excited for sleep. Reading was equally impossible. I scarcely glanced at the shelf of books that hung on the wall, and turned to a study of my surroundings.

The room was on the corner, as I have said, and I threw up the sash of the west window and looked out over a tangle of old buildings, ramshackle sheds, and an alley that appeared to lead nowhere.

Some sound of a drunken quarrel drew my attention to the north window, and I looked out into the alley. There were shouts and curses, and one protesting, struggling inebriate was hurled out from the front door and left, with threats and foul language, to collect himself from the pavement.

This edifying incident, which was explained to me solely by sound, had scarcely come to an end when a noise of creaking boards drew my eyes to the other window. The shutter suddenly flew around, and a human figure swung in at the open casing.

"Sh-h!" came the warning whisper, and I recognized my supposed robber. "Don't speak out loud," he said in suppressed tones. "Wait till I fasten this shutter."

"Sh-h!" came the warning whisper, and I recognized my supposed robber. "Don't speak out loud," he said in suppressed tones. "Wait till I fasten this shutter."

"Don't stir from this room till I come back," he whispered. "You can dress in anything of mine you like. I'll be in before twelve, or send a messenger if I'm not coming. By-by."

He was gone before I could say a word, and only an occasional creaking board told me of his progress down the stairs. He had evidently had some practice in getting about quietly. I could only wonder, as I closed and locked the door, whether it was the police or a private enemy that he was trying to avoid.

I had small time to speculate on the possibilities, for outside the window I heard the single word, "Help!" I rushed to the window and looked out. A band of half a dozen men was struggling and pushing away from Montgomery Street into the darker end of the alley. They were nearly under the window.

"Give it to him," said a voice. In an instant there came a scream of agony. Then a light showed and a tall, broad-shouldered figure leaped back.

"These aren't the papers," it hissed. "Curse you, you've got the wrong man!"

There was a moment of confusion, and the light flashed on the man who had spoken and was gone. But the flash had shown me the face of a man I could never forget. It was a strong, cruel, wolfish face—the face of a man near sixty, with a fierce yellow-gray mustache and imperious face broad at the temples and tapering down into a firm, unyielding jaw, and marked then with all the lines of rage, hatred, and chagrin at the failure of his plans.

It took not a second for me to see and hear and know all this, for the vision came and was gone in the drooping of an eyelid. And then there echoed through the alley loud cries of "Police! Murder! Help!" I was conscious that there was a man running through the hall and down the rickety stairs, making the building ring to the same cries.

It was thus with a feeling of surprise that I found myself in the street, and came to know that the cries for help had come from me, and that I was the man who had run through the hall and down the stairs shouting for the police. The street was empty.

Fortunately the policeman on the beat was at hand, and I halted him excitedly.

"Only rolling a drunk," he said lightly, as I told of what I had seen.

"No, it's worse than that I insisted. "There was murder done, and I'm afraid it's my friend."

He listened more attentively as I told him how Henry had left the house just before the cry for help had risen.

"It's a nasty place," he continued. "It's lucky I've got a light." He brought up a dark lantern from his overcoat pocket, and stood in the shelter of the building as he lighted it. "There's not many as carries 'em," he continued, "but they're mighty handy at times."

We made our way to the point beneath the window, where the men had stood.

There was nothing to be seen—no sign of struggle, no shred of torn clothing, no drop of blood. Body, traces and all had disappeared.

The Health in Winter.
The best way to keep in good health in the winter is to pay just a little attention to the body physically, and, by proper attention to diet and nature's warnings, avoid sickness.

More and more each year the profession is getting away from the theory of always dosing for disease, as a cure and a preventive, and prescribing natural treatments. We are thus getting closer to nature, and nature, as a restorer of the spent vigor and health, is coming into its right and just recognition.

The bath as one of the aids to nature is now given its due credit and attention. The cold bath in the morning imparts vigor and starts the day off with a tonic effect.

One of, if not the greatest baths science has developed is the dry hot air treatment. In this the temperature can be run up to 200 degrees, but, by a process which gives a free circulation of air through the machine, the heat is never oppressive. This treatment opens thoroughly the pores of the most obstinate skin and puts it in good condition, and by the perspiration assists nature in eliminating the impurities from the system.

The after effects of the treatment is invigorating. Instead of being the least depressive, they are tonic, and for the tired-down, worn-out system, it is a wonderful rejuvenator. Especially in this, so when the treatment is followed by the osteopathic treatment.

A MAN IN MINNESOTA
REPLIES TO A SUN WANT AD
One in Marion, Ky., Replies to the Same One.

FOR RENT—Fine farm about 3 miles from city. Good house and out buildings. Apply to 309 Broadway. T. E. Lydon.

A gentleman in Frontenac, Minn., replied to the ad. above, which is quite out of the ordinary. Mr. Lydon received a letter from him this week making inquiries about the farm, and he also had one reply, out of a great number of others, from a man in Marion, Ky.

The moral to this is: The Sun's want ads are effective—they certainly are wide reaching.

CORTLEYOU BACK AT CAPITAL.

Secretary Confers With President on Financial Situation.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Secretary of the Treasury Cortleyou returned to Washington today from New York, where he went last week to superintend government measures for relief of the money market. His return did not end Mr. Cortleyou's work, for he had a long conference with President Roosevelt, to whom he outlined in more detail than was possible in long distance telephone conversations last week, the details of the situation.

Mr. Cortleyou naturally was much pleased at the commendation contained in President Roosevelt's letter to him, published this morning. He made no additional statement, however, regarding the situation in New York.

The secretary spent most of the day in his office at the treasury department still attending to the details of the relief work. At dark he went to his home and left word that he was not to be disturbed until morning, thus obtaining the first rest he has had since the trouble began in the financial world.

ALL STARS IN TROUBLE FOR LACK OF FINANCE.

The "All Star" major and minor league baseball team which played an exhibition game here Sunday, has come to grief, and from authentic sources it is stated that several defections have occurred in the ranks of the ball players. Private car "Titan," in which the team travels, is still side tracked at the Katterjohn spur track near the Union station, but the car is almost empty. Last night ball players began taking police "box cars" out of the town, according to reports, and scattered in every direction. Yesterday the manager was presented in court because he was suspected of jumping a bond bill. The team experienced much trouble in getting out of Cairo, and was supposed to go to Memphis from here. The only date definitely known to have been made by the "all stars" was with the White Sox in Atlanta, and this was for December 2. No record of the date has been bulletined in the sporting journals, however.

DISTILLERS WILL BRING SUIT.

Will Test Bonaparte's Interpretation of Pure Food Law.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Arrangements have been perfected to bring a test case in the courts to secure a judicial opinion upon Attorney General Bonaparte's interpretation of the pure food laws, so far as it relates to the labeling of whisky. Several distillers have decided to accept Attorney General Bonaparte's challenge and bring a civil suit in the courts. Something like 100 criminal cases have been prepared by the department of agriculture, but it is the understanding that these criminal suits will not be pressed by the department of justice until the courts have passed upon the questions which the distillers will raise in the civil case.

BOOTH ATTENDS 3 MEETINGS.

Salvation Army General Much Improved From Recent Illness.

Pittsburg, Oct. 29.—General William Booth, of the Salvation Army, who was suffering from exhaustion upon his arrival here last night from Columbus, O., attended three meetings today in the Alvin theater and was apparently much improved. The general, who seemed on the verge of a collapse last night, was greatly benefited by a night's rest and showed but slight evidence of his recent illness.

SIGNS PLEDGE TO QUIT NAGGING.

St. Louis Woman Fined for Scolding—Husband Silent in Court.

St. Louis, Oct. 29.—"I hereby freely and voluntarily promise that I will not again be guilty of in any way nagging or of using abusive language toward my husband for a period of one year from date."

Mrs. John Ottling, 25 years old, 2712 North Ninth street, signed this pledge today before Judge Pollard. When Mr. and Mrs. Ottling were brought into court neighbors said the woman "nagged" her husband.

The husband was present but refused to testify. His silence, the judge thought, was significant, so he levied a fine of $25 and costs upon Mrs. Ottling, but agreed to withhold the fine if she would sign and keep a pledge to stop nagging.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 29.—It was announced today an inquiry into the affairs of the United States Express company will be instituted shortly by the public service commission. Hatt, requesting the commission to conduct a hearing and take testimony as to the advisability of a proposed change of law relating to joint stock associations conducting the business of common carriers. The commission will hold a public hearing Nov. 11.

Norwegian Shakeup.

Christiania, Oct. 29.—M. Michelsen, the premier, resigned today today on account of ill health, which led to the resignation of the ministers of public worship and justice. King Haakon later made the following appointments:

J. G. Loveland, premier and minister of foreign affairs.
M. Bredal, minister of justice.
Capt. Dawes, minister of defense.
Magnus Halvorsen, minister of finance.
M. Herge, minister of public worship.

The reconstruction of the ministry has no political significance. It is entirely due to the doctor's ordering M. Michelsen to take a prolonged rest, as he is suffering from a dangerous form of heart disease.

Mattoon, Ill., Oct. 29.—Indictments against Judge Peter S. Grosscup and his associate directors of the Charleston & Mattoon Interurban railway, are said to have been drawn by the grand jury, which investigated the wreck August 30, in which 18 people were killed. Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—J. F. Ellison, secretary of the national rivers and harbors congress, which will convene in the second annual convention in this city Thursday, December 4, says that the work of the congress has been effective, as is evidenced by the interest taken in it by President Roosevelt.

"The president, for the first time in the history of our country," says Mr. Ellison, "has by official action, recognized the importance of such improvements to the commercial welfare of the nation by appointing a waterways commission to investigate and report feasible plans for the improvement of and maintenance of our waterways."

Prof. Willis Moore, chief of the United States weather bureau, presided. Delegates were present from all parts of the world. Miss Blanche Hills entertained the Delphic club very delightfully yesterday afternoon, at her home on Ninth street, in honor of Miss Nell Holland, president of the club and a bride of this week, and of Miss Helen Hilly of Lawrenceburg, the guest of Miss Hilly Hills. The house was charmingly decorated with autumn leaves. The attractive course-luncheon carried out the red and yellow color motif. It was served in the dining room after the game. The table was an artistic autumnal symphony. The centerpiece was a silver salver of apples and grapes and autumn leaves. The silver candelabra held red and yellow candles.

The first prize, a cut glass perfume bottle, was won by Miss Lillie May Winstead. The guests of honor were presented with pretty hand-painted plates. Only club members were present.

DOCTOR USES D. D. D. IN HIS PRACTICE.

Eminent Physician Says This Great Liquid Prescription Is Certain Cure for Eczema.

Still another eczema specialist comes forward in enthusiastic praise of D. D. D. Prescription, the wonderful external remedy which cures eczema and other similar diseases like magic. He is Dr. C. H. Holmes, of Silver City, Miss., and in summing up his impressions of the startling cures D. D. D. has effected, he says: "I have been using your D. D. D. for four years with gratifying results. This is near a specific for eczema, eczema, psoriasis, etc., as is quinine for malaria."

Dr. Holmes is one of hundreds of physicians who use D. D. D. in their daily practice. The D. D. D. company allows physicians to use this remedy with the understanding that they tell their patients what it was that cured them when the terrible itch has been wiped out, the skin healed and the raw wound covered over with soft white skin. D. D. D. is not a nasty paste to smear the skin and clothing, but it is a clear liquid. It is advisable to use D. D. D. soap in connection with D. D. D. Prescription.

Is any further proof of the curative powers of D. D. D. Prescription necessary? That remedy is sold at R. W. Walker & Co.'s Fifth and Broadway. Come in and let us show you convincing proof that D. D. D. will cure your skin disease. Even if you have not decided to use D. D. D. remedy, come in and explain your case anyway.

Tobacco Trust Cases Being Brought to Crucial Point.
Norfolk, Va., Oct. 29.—The information by the government for the forfeiture of $750,000 cigarettes owned by the British-American Tobacco company, limited, seized by the collector of customs at this port in two lots October 19 and 21, because of alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law, was filed in the United States district court this afternoon. It charges that the company "was treated as an instrumentality for the special purpose of defeating and violating the laws of the said unlawful contracts, agreements, combinations and conspiracies with the several American tobacco concerns."

Compromise Effected.
The case of Dr. D. C. Murrell against Captain James White, for $7,500, was yesterday dismissed in circuit court, having been compromised by the defendant paying to the plaintiff damages. The amount is not made public. Dr. Murrell owned the American Express company office building next to the White building, and on Labor Day it was wrecked by a portion of the White building falling in on it during a wind storm. Dr. Murrell alleged that Capt. White neglected tearing down the dangerous wall, which was responsible for the wrecking of his building.

C. H. Huss, white, was fined $1 for being drunk.

ON LARCENY CHARGE.
Rev. May Pepper Vanderbilt May Have to Stand Trial.

New York, Oct. 29.—The Rev. May Pepper Vanderbilt must stand trial on a charge of having stolen a house and lot from her aged husband, Edward Ward Vanderbilt, who was recently adjudged incapable of managing his affairs.

Justice Aspinwall, of the supreme court, Brooklyn, today dismissed writs of habeas corpus and certiorari sued out for the release of the noted medium, Minerva Vanderbilt, daughter of the aged lumberman, charges her stepmother with having induced Vanderbilt to deed over to her several parcels of real estate and also to make a will in her favor on her representations that "Little Bright Eyes," a spirit, had communicated to her from the spirit world that the first Mrs. Vanderbilt sanctioned such gifts. Unless an appeal is taken from today's decision, Mrs. Pepper-Vanderbilt will have to be arraigned before Magistrate Geymour in the Adams street court on a charge of grand larceny.

Heavy Ocean Swells.

Prisoner Judges His Case.
Hamilton Murray, a wealthy farmer, was arrested yesterday for intoxication, and was taken before Judge Gass for trial today.

The judge recognized Murray as an old offender, and asked him what he thought ought to be done with a man who would get drunk so often. Murray replied that he hardly knew what he would do, and the court replied that believing him to be an honest man he would appoint him judge to try his own case.

Murray made a short speech in which he said that some leniency should be shown on account of the influence of long habit and because his was never a case of willful violation of the law. "Nevertheless," he concluded, "for repeated failure to heed the warnings of this court I fine you the sum of $10."

Taking out his pocketbook he handed the clerk $10 and walked out of the court room.—Muncie (Ind.) Dispatch to the New York Sun.

CATARRH BLOOD UNHEALTHY SYSTEM DERANGED

The entire inner portion of the body is covered with mucous membrane; this membranous tissue is abundantly supplied with blood vessels, veins, arteries, and capillaries. Each of these is constantly supplying to this tissue or lining, blood to nourish and strengthen it and keep the system healthy. When the blood becomes infected with catarrhal matter it is not able to furnish the required amount of healthful properties, but feeds the parts with impurities which cause the membranes and tissues so that they become irritated and inflamed, and Catarrh, with all its disagreeable and dangerous symptoms, is established in the system. There is a constant ringing in the ears, a thin, watery discharge from the nostrils, the breath has an offensive odor, slight fever often accompanies the disease, and gradually the entire health becomes affected and the system upset and deranged. In its earlier stages, when Catarrh is confined to the nose and throat, sprays, washes, inhalations, etc., are soothing and in a way beneficial, because they are cleanly and usually antiseptic, but such treatment has no curative effect, because it does not reach the blood. To cure Catarrh the blood must be purified, and this is just what S. S. S. does. It goes down into the circulation and attacks the disease at its foundation; it removes the cause and makes the blood pure and healthy. Then the blood vessels are filled with fresh, reinvigorated blood, which is carried to all the mucous surfaces and linings, the inflammation and irritation are corrected, the symptoms all disappear, the health is improved and Catarrh is permanently cured. GOV. BRADLEY SUMMARIZES

Act of 1904, page 60, which was continued in force until 1908, when it was decreased one-half cent (See Acts 1906).

Governor Bradley shows that the statement of Beckham that there was a deficit in the common school fund for the year 1900 of $147,000 is untrue, but that there was then to the credit of that fund a balance of $71,623.12. He also shows that the statement of Beckham that there was a deficit at the end of the school year June 30, 1901, is false, and that there was then a balance in the school fund to its credit of $112,799 (See page 166, Auditor Coker's report).

Fourth—Governor Bradley shows that instead of Mr. Beckham being for the school book bill that he advocated the passage of another which empowered him to appoint three commissioners, which was defeated.

and that the bill as passed giving the county officers the power to make contracts for the books was passed unanimously, and that Governor Beckham was so displeased with it that he failed to approve the act, and this will be seen from the act itself at the conclusion thereof.

Fifth—Bradley shows that Beckham purposely omitted from his charge concerning the knowledge of Bradley of threats made against Senator Goebel that he, Bradley, as appears from the Democratic campaign book, said when notified that Mr. Goebel would be shot that it was an infernal outrage; that it should not occur and that he would go up in the senate chamber and come down with Goebel, and no injury should be done him, not even an indignity. He also shows that he was assured Goebel should not be injured, and that he was not shot until several days after.

Sixth—Governor Bradley shows that the letter which Beckham reads from him to Calhoun has been tampered with, and as now presented is a forgery. He also refers to the speeches of Hendricks, who charged that Beckham had concealed from the legislature the fact that he had made a contract with Calhoun for $3,000, and enabled Calhoun to lobby a bill though paying him $71,000 fees when Senator Blackburn had already reported to Beckham that the government was ready to pay the claim, before Calhoun was employed.

Seventh—Governor Bradley charges that in the election of 1903 Beckham's soldiers, under command of Judge Hargis, went to the Prozen precinct in Breathitt county, took charge of the polls, and counted a majority of from 10 to 25 for the Democratic ticket, when the precinct was 100 Republican.

Eighth—As to the "Jumbled figures" complained of by Beckham, Governor Bradley specifically sets forth the enormous increase of expenses under Beckham's administration at the Frankfort and Eddyville penitentiaries, the lunatic asylum, the feeble minded institutes, the deaf and dumb asylum, the active and regular militia, expenses of public offices, cost of criminal prosecutions, insurance department, board of equalization, amount paid assessors, cost of court of appeals, expenses, rewards, etc., which, he says, is shown by the auditor's reports, and offers to agree with Mr. Beckham to pay justly the expense, in order to demonstrate who has told the truth about these matters, which offer Mr. Beckham has treated with contemptuous silence.

Ninth—Governor Bradley shows that the tax rate used by the Republicans to pay for all current expenses was 12 1/2 cents on the one hundred dollars, only fifteen cents of which went for general expenses; (See Kentucky statutes, ed. 1894, page 91) and that they administered the state government on this sum, and according to Auditor Stone's report of 1900 they left in the treasury when they went out of power, $1,000,000 which, with the other assets, was more than sufficient to have paid on the $1,000,000 bonded indebtedness and left the state entirely out of debt, while Mr. Beckham on an increased tax rate of 2 1/2 cents (see Acts 1902, page 282), and with an increase in the tax rate for general purposes of 6 1/2 cents on the one hundred dollars for general expenses, with a largely increased valuation of property and an average of more than $79,000,000 a year has left the state an indebtedness, according to Hager's books of the 30th day of June, 1907, of $672,277.47 on unpaid appropriations for permanent improvements and a shortage in the general expenditure fund of $476,117.89, borrowed from the sinking fund, thus making a total shortage in indebtedness of $1,148,395.38. He also shows from Auditor Stone's report of 1900 that when the Republicans went into power there was a floating indebtedness of $1,800,000 left by their predecessors, besides which there was a bonded indebtedness of $674,000, notwithstanding the preceding administration had diverted from the sinking fund $2,500,000, and had appropriated $500,000 paid by the national government to the payment of general expenses (see Acts 1891-2-3, page 7) All this floating indebtedness had been paid off as shown by the report of Auditor Stone.

Governor Bradley charges that the Republicans did not increase the tax rate ten cents on the $100, but that a Republican house and Democratic senate made this increase for the exclusive purpose of paying old debts of the preceding administration, which is shown by Acts 1897, page 12.

He also charges that the $500,000 of bonds was issued under an act passed at the same session to pay old debts of preceding administration (page 9, Acts 1897) which is shown on the face of the Acts; that the ten-cent rate was by the Act to be reduced in three years to five cents (see same Acts), and that although the Republicans had administered the state government on forty-two and a half cents on the $100, Beckham was not able to administer the state government on forty-seven and a half cents from May, 1900, and the rate was raised to fifty cents on the $100. He further charges that the $1,000,000 of bonds, which Beckham claims to have paid, were issued entirely for Democratic debts—$500,000 in 1885 and the other $500,000 in 1897, and that when they were paid, Mr. Beckham was paying Democratic and not Republican debts.

A HOME MADE BLOOD REMEDY

Cures The Kidneys And Makes Them Filter Poisons From The Blood And Cures Rheumatism Every Time

MIX IT YOURSELF.

A leading health journal, in answering the question, "What is the best prescription to clean and purify the blood," prints in a recent issue the following: Fluid Extract of Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Karsaparilla three ounces, Compound Sarsaparilla three ounces, Shake well and use in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime.

A well known local druggist who is familiar with this prescription states that it is harmless, being composed of simple ingredients which can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy.

It cleans the blood from all impurities and nourishes the blood. In just a few days the skin begins to clear of sores, boils and pimples. It puts vigor and energy into run-down, debilitated men and women. For many years Sarsaparilla alone has been considered a good blood medicine. But while it built up and made new blood, the impurities remained within and the good accomplished was only temporary. Sarsaparilla, however, when used in combination with Compound Karsaparilla and Fluid Extract of Dandelion works wonders. This combination puts the kidneys to work to filter and sift out the waste matter, uric acid and other impurities that cause disease. It makes new blood and relieves rheumatism and lame back and bladder troubles.

This prescription is better than the usual patent medicines, which are in the most part alcohol concoctions. The ingredients cost but little and are easily mixed at home. Every man and woman here should make some up and try it if they feel their system requires a good blood medicine and tonic.

The Karsaparilla to clean the kidneys and vitalize them so they can clean the blood, Sarsaparilla to make new rich blood and Dandelion to tone the stomach, clean the liver and make it active and relieve constipation is the way the prescription acts, and so mildly and gently that one does not consider they are taking medicine.

The Goosebone Forecast.
According to the goosebone, there is hard winter ahead.

The earliest prediction of the present year is made by Amos Mayer, a farmer living in the western end of the county. The front part of the top of the breastbone is very dark and near the center it is white for a considerable distance. Beyond this it is dotted and then comes a long dark streak. The goosebone prophet said today:

"According to the breast bone, we will have quite cold weather in the latter part of October and for two weeks in November. Then there will be a warm spell, lasting for a few days. December will be cold month with an occasional snowstorm. January will be a month of snow, hail and an occasional cold spell.

"The dark colors on the end of the breast bone indicate that February will be a very cold month and there will be several blizzards. At one particular part of the bone it is almost black, which means that we will have lots of snow and sleet. The cold weather will continue 'way into March, and we will have a very late spring."

The goosebone was compared with several obtained from other birds killed within the past few weeks, and they seem to be marked identically the same.—Pittsburg Press.

Cotton is raised all over India, but the length, coarseness and general quality of the fibre varies with each locality. Owing to primitive methods of cultivation, the average yield is only about one-third that of the United States. If the boll worm ruins a crop, the natives perform a religious rite; and if the second crop is also destroyed they impatiently starve to death.

Cough drops, throat lozenges, or cough syrups may relieve a cold but they don't cure it. Scott's Emulsion not only immediately relieves your cough or cold but cures it by giving you the strength to throw it off. Take Scott's Emulsion for coughs and colds.

DRIVEN OFF BY TAXATION

The manner in which the tax system of Kentucky may seriously affect its business interests was recently given a very striking demonstration in Lexington. The estate of Mrs. Clara Nell Walsh, amounting to about $750,000, had been for many years managed by the Security Trust company of Lexington, as trustee. A petition was filed recently in the Fayette circuit court, asking the court to terminate the trusteeship, so that Mrs. Walsh might put her property in the hands of a trust company in St. Louis. The Security Trust company, which had been acting as trustee, did not oppose this suit, it being distinctly stated in the petition of Mrs. Walsh that the services of the trust company had been in every way satisfactory, but that the taxes imposed upon her property were too burdensome.

The peculiar feature of the case lies in the fact that Mrs. Walsh, herself, resides in St. Louis and, therefore, claims that her personal property should not be taxed at Lexington in the hands of her trustee. The court of appeals having held otherwise, and Mrs. Walsh, not feeling justified in paying a tax rate of $2.70 on the stocks, bonds, and other investments in the hands of the Kentucky trustee, since she could not derive any possible good from the payment of this tax, decided to remove the property to the state of her residence.

A considerable part of the estate was invested in local securities—the bonds of local corporations and real estate mortgages. This will mean that the money will gradually be withdrawn from investment in these local securities and reinvested by the St. Louis trustee in other securities, thus constituting a loss of that much money to enterprises in and around Lexington and Fayette county. It means just that much greater scarcity of needed capital.

The Lexington Herald has been, with great energy and skill, showing the result of this sort of taxation on the business interests of the state. It points out, among other things, the inconsistency in the decisions of our courts, which hold that a man who lives in one Kentucky county and has intangible personal property, such as stocks, bonds or money, in the hands of a trustee in another county of Kentucky, must pay the tax in the county of his residence and not in the county where the trustee resides; but if the owner of the property moves entirely out of the state, then he must pay a tax in the county where the trustee resides, as well as pay the tax in the state where he takes up his new residence, thus constituting double taxation.

Consumed With Taxation.
In her petition asking for the change in trusteeship Mrs. Walsh says: "Plaintiffs desire, if said Clara Nell Walsh be not entitled to a discharge of the trustee, that there be a change in the person of said trustee, and if it can be done that the funds and property in trust be transferred to a trustee duly qualified under and resident in the state of Missouri, where they have their home. Plaintiffs state that the reasons why a change of trustee is desired do not in any manner relate to the conduct or fidelity of said trustee, but are on account of the heavy burdens of taxation imposed on said estate by reason of the residence of the trustee in a state and city different from the home of the beneficiary."

Court of Appeals Decision.
The Herald adds the following footnote to the case. "Under this decision of the court, Mrs. Walsh's personal property in the hands of the Security Trust company would be liable for city, state and county taxes here; and realizing that she, a non-resident of the state, could derive no possible benefit from taxes paid to the city on her personal property, Mrs. Walsh takes this means of getting possession of her property. The removal of the estate to another state is a powerful argument against the wisdom of the system of taxation in force in Kentucky; for though the investments made by the trustee in local securities are so safe and highly regarded as to be retained, yet when a reinvestment is made it is likely that a large portion of the funds will be invested elsewhere, thus depriving this community and state of so much badly needed capital for its progress and development.

Poverty or Perjury.
"A prominent attorney of this city, in discussing before the Taxation Committee of the Kentucky senate in 1905 the tax system of our state, denounced our personal property tax as necessarily leading either to poverty or perjury. We do not know whether any statistics on the subject are available, but we think it a safe guess that at least three-fourths of all the intangible personal property, such as stocks, bonds, and cash, which is assessed for taxation in Kentucky, is in the hands of illudicrals. Is it a fair and manly thing to place upon those least able to bear it nearly all the burden of such a tax?"

IN CLEVELAND

RACE IS GROWING WARMER AND CONDITIONS REMARKABLE.

How Burton and Johnson Are Fighting for Supremacy in City By the Lakes.

That nearly every man who has a vote will cast it in the mayoral election here November 5, says a Cleveland (O.) special to the New York Times, is clearly indicated by the heaviest registration this city has ever known. Over 93,000 have registered up to date, and there will probably be 1,000 more on the special day.

This heavy registration has wonderfully enthused the Republicans, who claim to see in it a victory for Burton. The heaviest increases are shown in the strong Republican wards, and the Republican leaders say this means that Burton will get a large share of the stay-at-home vote that has refused to come out during the last three elections.

Whether this is sound argument will soon be known. The betting fraternity does not seem to take it very seriously, as bets still stand ten to seven on Johnson. The general opinion among those who study election indications from a purely business standpoint is that Johnson will have at least 1,000 votes to the good.

But there is no denying the fact that, no matter who may win, the other man will know he has been in a fight. The city has never seen a campaign so warm. The street railway issue has dwarfed all others, and the attempt of Burton to bring Johnson's record in office, extravagance or high taxes to the front has failed miserably. It is a straight-out-and-out fight between Tom L. Johnson, advocate of three-cent fare and the streets for the people, against Theodore E. Burton, backed by the Cleveland Electric Railway company trying to save the franchises for the richest public service corporation in the state.

Burton has so far been a strong candidate, and his meetings, several each night, in immense circus tents, have drawn thousands, but Johnson has been equally welcomed, and is winning the more enthusiastic Johnson. Always cheerful, it is at his heart when someone asks him questions. Burton is not used to this rapid-fire style and objected to it when some one started to cross-examine him at a recent meeting. When he saw that he would have to stand for it he took his medicine, however, and now seems to get as much fun out of this candidate bating as does his more jolly opponent. He made one grievous error, however. Johnson challenged him to a joint debate. He declined, and Johnson has been poking fun at him ever since. Finally the two agreed to a debate in the newspapers, but it has dwindled into a farce.

Another hole into which Burton has unwittingly been pushed may give him much trouble before election day. He has always been opposed to the use of money in elections except for the most ordinary necessities. When the campaign started, Mayor Johnson suggested that each tell from day to day where he was getting money for campaign expenses, and how it was being used. Burton refused to give his sanction to this scheme.

Now the charge is being made that the Cleveland electric railway officials and other public service corporations who fear Mayor Johnson's power are giving up thousands of dollars to elect Burton. Republican party workers are being paid. Billboards are being used. Expert writers are employed to dig up literature by the ton.

A Chicago firm that helped in the Bushee-Dunne campaign has been engaged at an expense of $20,000 to send out over 600,000 letters urging Burton's election. Party workers in every precinct have been told that the glad days of the Hannan regime are returning.

Burton is astounded at this, but can say nothing. He stands as the street railway candidate, and must face the music.

One strange angle that has arisen in the campaign is the attempt to make it appear that Cleveland, known everywhere as a model city, has a poor government and is as deeply incursed with grafting as Pittsburg, Philadelphia or Harrisburg. Burton has made the statement at several of his meetings lately, though so far he has not given facts to substantiate the assertion. Johnson defies his opponent to prove graft in any form, and denounces him for throwing mud at the city which has given him such high national honors.

While Burton was declaring a few nights ago that Cleveland was worse than Philadelphia, President McCrea, of the Pennsylvania railroad, in an interview, was saying: "While I take no sides in this contest, I have observed that Cleveland is a well-governed city. The streets are in good shape, the city is well policed. I like your mayor and his business methods. He safeguards your city."

Keep Your Bowels Open

It is a noticeable fact, and one which any doctor will verify that people who suffer most often from disease are the ones who have the most difficulty in keeping their bowels open. Regular bowel action is half the battle of health. People who have a tendency to constipation must of necessity use something to help nature along. This should not be a violent aid like salts or purgative waters, cathartic pills or powders, but a syrup liquid that will of the intestines and membranes that it comes in contact with. Children, women and weak people generally should never be given a strong physic, as it weakens the system. And it is liable for the strongest person because the reason is that it does not work. It is unlike anything else. Bowels are so sure in constipation, dyspepsia, indigestion, liver trouble, biliousness, flatulency, four stomach, weak stomach, bloated stomach and such like that a cure of any of these ailments is absolutely impossible until the bowels are open. It is worth a hundred times that in any sufferer.

Cupid Traverses Oriental Seas.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Oct. 29.—Another southern belle has demonstrated that to be seen is to be loved, and another northerner has proven that papa's and mama's consent isn't necessary so long as the girl is willing.

Miss Miller, daughter of Lieut. Col. T. E. Miller, of Alabama, chief quartermaster of the Philippine division, is now the wife of Julian Humphrey, lieutenant of Philippine scouts, and son of Major General Charles P. Humphrey, U. S. retired. She took her new name recently at "The Little Church Around the Corner," in Manila, after a vain attempt on the part of her parents to separate her from her lover by taking her to the Philippines from Washington.

Lieutenant Humphrey and Miss Miller had known each other for years. They finally became so devoted that Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Miller became alarmed, believing that both were too young to marry. That simply convinced the lovers that they must marry. Late in the summer, Lieut. Col. Miller was ordered to the Philippines. Mrs. Miller doesn't care much for Manila, but this time she was anxious to go for it meant that she could thus take her daughter away from young Humphrey. How she felt when the first person she met on the transport sailing from San Francisco was Julian Humphrey in the uniform of a lieutenant of scouts, she has not written to any one in the United States. Humphrey had learned of his sweetheart's intended voyage and had laid his own plans accordingly. It was a delightful voyage, those moonlight nights—for Miss Miller and Mr. Humphrey.

The ban was placed on Lieut. Humphrey when the party reached Manila, but a postoffice box, which he rented and to which Miss Miller was given a key, proved a great assistance to Cupid.

Then for some unknown reason and through some unrevealed influence, Lieut. Humphrey was ordered from Manila to Mindanao, a province far to the south. Did he go alone? Half a dozen persons who gathered in the Methodist church to hear Rev. Isaac R. Harper pronounce the wedding ceremony a few hours later can answer that question—also the postmaster at Manila.

LOVE AND TRUST

GREATER GENEROSITY AMONG AMERICAN CHURCH MEN.

Less Hickerling and Wrangling Than in England, Says Bishop of London.

London, Oct. 29.—The bishop of London polished his sermon at the Church of the Holy Trinity Sunday with reference to what he saw in America, where he arrived yesterday.

"There is far greater generosity, love and trust between different bodies of Christians and between schools of thought in the same church in America than here in England," said Dr. Ingram. "It was like going into another atmosphere to pass from wrangles of Great Britain into an atmosphere where they are unknown."

"I found that the bitterness which disgraces our church at home is unknown in the United States, although there are conscientious differences there. It was quite a shock, amid the love and harmony there, to take up the English newspapers and read reports of the church congress here and find that the eternal wrangling was going on today which had been going on for 50 years."

"It was a great lesson to be present at the general convention of the churches in the United States, highly instructive to see a millionaire from Wall street sitting side by side with a workman, both representing New York. It was true democracy."

FERDINAND IV REPORTED DYING

Is Grand Duke of Tuscany—Eswan-jodes of Two Eldest Children, Vienna, Oct. 29.—It is reported from Salzburg, Austria, the Archduke Ferdinand IV, grand duke of Tuscany, aged 72, is dying.

In later years the archduke has been embittered by the conduct of his two eldest children, ex-crown princess of Saxony, whose escapades for several years as Countess Montenegro made her notorious, and who recently married Eusebio Toselli, an Italian piano player, and former arch-archduke Leopold, now known as Leopold Wolfing, who gave up his position at the Austrian court to marry a Vienna actress, and who, after a divorce was married in Switzerland to a daughter of a horse dealer.

The Union Pacific Railroad has adopted a weed burner which covers twenty-five miles of road in twelve hours and destroys the weeds, root and branch. It is a gasoline machine with blower attachments and some people believe it can be adapted to the purpose of killing weeds on farms.

RESORT TO CANIBALISM.

Says Angellion Missionary to Ungava Bay—Severe Cold Cause.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 29.—Canibalism has been resorted to by the Eskimos in the Ungava Bay district, and on the shores of Hudson Strait, according to Rev. Stewart, an Angellion missionary to the Ungava Bay Eskimos.

Rev. Stewart states that owing to the severely cold weather and unusual scarcity of game, many natives in the remote regions have perished from starvation and exhaustion and the survivors have been forced to cannibalism to sustain life.

Recently a crew of a New Foundland vessel which was in Ungava Bay discovered thirty skeletons lying buried on the beach. It is supposed that these were remains of some of the victims of the famine.

Parish, both residents of this place and both men of family, were the victims. With E. C. Shipple, another Genoa man, they had been living in a small camp wagon and an old lean-to shanty about twelve miles from here. Shipple says that they had all been drinking heavily. He was asleep in the wagon which was backed up against the shanty, and the other two men were in the lean-to when the stove exploded, setting both the shanty and the wagon afire. Shipple crawled out just in time. The others were burned black. The survivor of the party went to the nearest house and word was sent to the De Kalb county coroner, who took charge of the case. MAD DOG

WAS ALMOST ON FIREMAN WHEN HELP INTERFERED.

Neah English Probably Saves Perry Story From Being Bitten by Animal.

Timely interference of Neah English, a fireman at No. 1 station, at Tenth and Jones streets, saved Perry Story from being bitten by a dog yesterday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock in front of the station house. The dog was killed by English with a well directed blow with a stick. Story was standing in front of the station when a pointer bird dog ran down the street. English was in the rear of the station and saw the dog, the doors being open. He realized in a glance that the animal was suffering from rabies, and seized a heavy stick. Story had not noticed the fraying dog until English ran out and killed it. The dog was making for the unsuspecting fireman when English interfered.
